Mobile Application

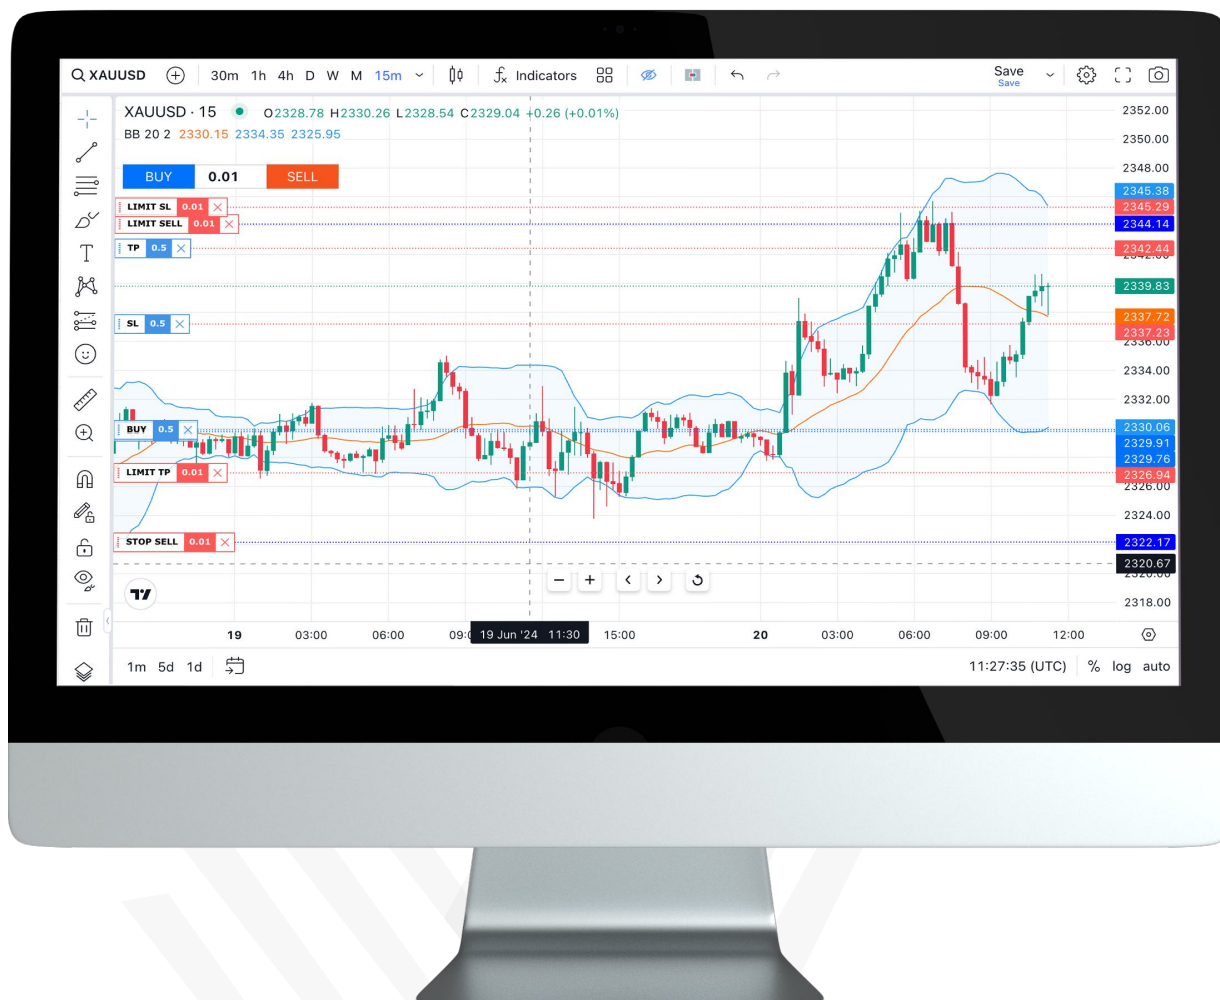

Trading really can be done effectively on a mobile device. There are two ways to trade:

1. One-click Trade
2. Order tickets

One-click Trade buttons allow an immediate market order to be sent upon a single click of a button, for fast decision-making. One-click Trade uses traders preset preferences.

Order tickets, on the other hand, allow traders to submit market, limit, stop and stop limit orders, where order size, protection levels and settings can be applied from an easy-to-use order form.

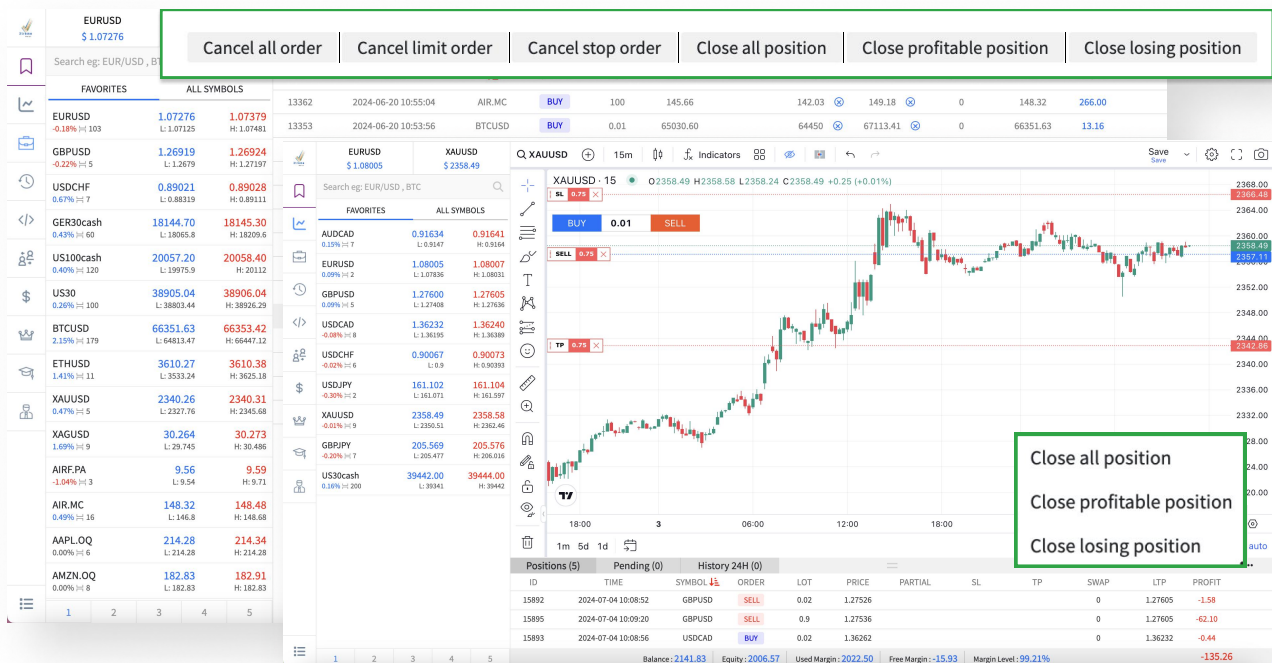

One-click Trade from Charts

One-click Trade buttons allow an immediate market order to be sent upon a single click of a button, for fastest decision-making. One-click Trade uses traders preset preferences.

One-click trade with Hundreds of indicators, studies, and tools on a powerful and customisable charting interface. Extensive historical data for forex, crypto, stocks and metals from 20+ exchanges. Nobody else offers as much data as we do.

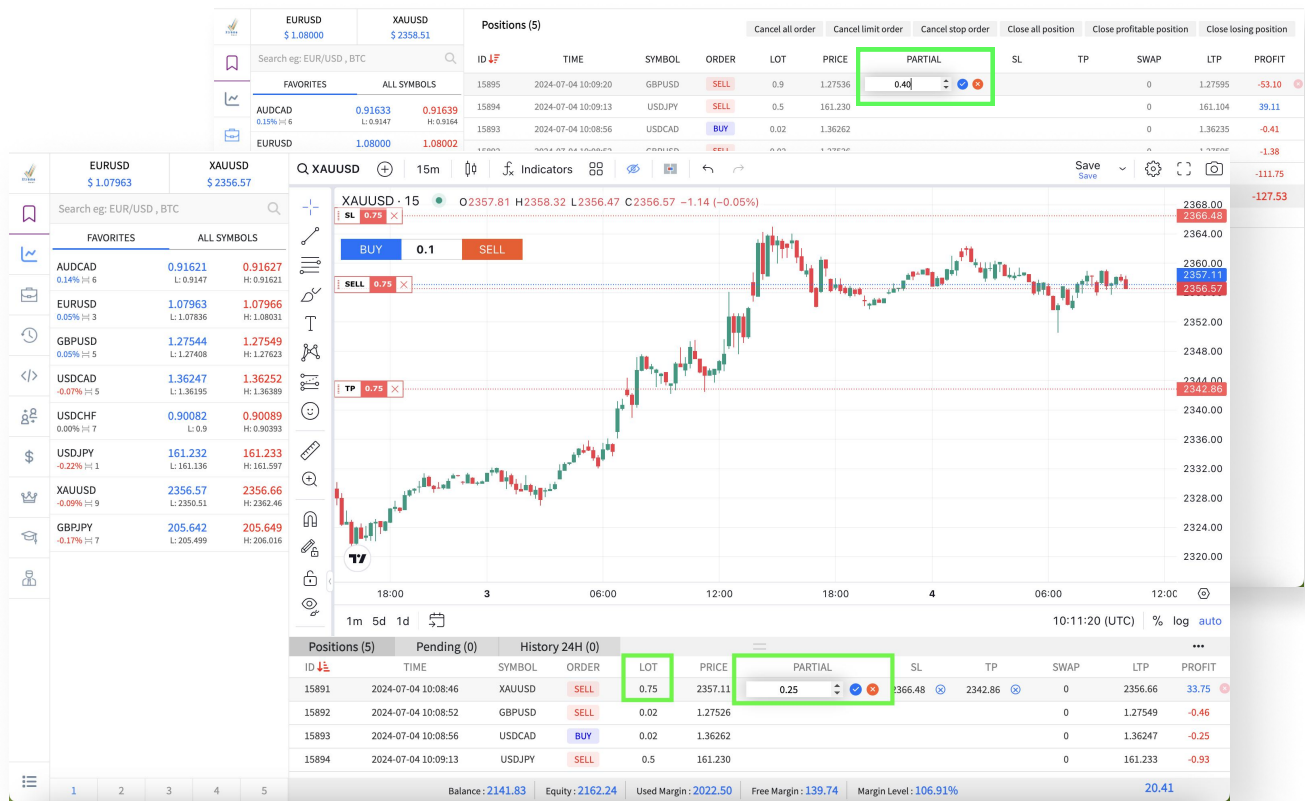

Bulk Close Positions

Close the Bulk positions in single click

- Xtreme Next allows you to close bulk positions in forex trading with a single click.
- This feature streamlines the process of exiting multiple trades simultaneously, saving time and reducing the risk of market fluctuations. By using bulk close, you can efficiently manage your portfolio and quickly respond to market conditions.
